FIVE STORY HOTEL BEING ERECTED BY J. B. SHANNON

Will be a Grand Improvement to Corner of Market and Water Streets—To be a Fire Proof Building of Reinforced Concrete Construction—Foundation Fiers are in and Some of the Brickwork Done.

Work on the new five story hotel which James B. Shannon is erecting at the corner of Market and Water streets is well under way and from now on will show greater progress than heretofore. The accompanying view gives an idea of how the building will look when completed, being five stories high with tower on which will be a clock. Like Mr. Shannon's other building operations, this will be one to his credit. The improvement to that corner being of untold value in the way of beautifying that section of the city. He has done more towards improving the business section of Norwich by new buildings and alterations than any other single man and that he has not reached his goal is shown by the continual addition to his list of properties. His progressive nature and excellent ability to put through such property changes which are bound to be of immense future value has attracted attention throughout the entire state.

This new hotel replaces the Advertiser building, a landmark for fifty years, and gives an additional and the first bachelors' hotel to the city. The entire frontage of the hotel property on both streets is about seventy feet.
The foundation of the old building was entirely removed and new brick piers have been constructed, four on Market street and three on Water street, on which the building will rest. The cellar walls are of concrete, having been built out to the curb line, the cellar to extend under the walk.

The brickwork has been started by Crutcher & Lillibridge, who secured the contract, and the work of pouring the concrete can be started as soon as the steelwork is in place. Some of the forms have been placed, while others will be put up next week, and from now on the work will be pushed along rapidly. The concrete work will be done by the same concern which is building the Shannon building. It will be possible to alternate the men employed on the two jobs, as there is some time between the completion of a floor on the Shannon building and the start on the next, or during a wait for steel, that the time can be put in to advantage on the hotel, so that the latter, being smaller, will advance quicker and will be done in all probability before the Shannon building.

The entrance as shown will be at the corner and on the ground floor will be the hotel lobby and deck with a caf  at the left. The building will be equipped with the latest elevator and the remainder of the building will be given over to rooms. There will be about forty rooms in the hotel, which will include the third floor of the Auditorium building. This floor was laid out for a banquet hall and used as such until the Auditorium became a theater, when its use ceased and it will now be fitted up for hotel use. It is possible where it has not been put in owing to the hoist being used from that point, and the wall would interfere.

The drilling for the elevator plunger is under way here, a rotary electric drill being used by the Oils Elevator company. They are drilling through solid rock, the elevator being of the plunger pattern, which will be in the same part of the building as was the old elevator. The drill sinks about four feet daily, making a hole sixteen inches in diameter. The hole will be sixty feet deep, a hole equal to the height of the building being necessary.

Adjoining this building Mr. Shannon is to erect another three or four story building along similar lines, the plans for which are now being drawn. This will cover the property recently acquired from the Plant-Gadden company. This Shannon annex will be used for stores and offices, being of fireproof construction, and the entrance being from the Shannon building.

ECCELESTON FAMILY REUNION AT GLASGO

Sixty Were Present Including a Number from Here.

The descendants of the late Avery N. Eccleston and wife, Sally B. Ray, of North Stonington, held their ninth annual reunion with Mr. and Mrs.
Nathan W. Eccleston at Glasgo, Tuesday.

Sixty were present, coming from Boston, Hartford, Williamstown, Jewett City, Norwich, Yantic, Bean Hill, Ni-antic, Mystic, Stonington, North Stonington and other places.

Death has entered the circle the past year and taken a daughter, Mrs. Oliver S. Miller, the eldest of the nine children who lived to grow up. Only three of the children are now living.
Nathan W. Eccleston of Glasgo, with whom the reunion was held, John D.
Jewett and Herman Clinton of North Stonington, all of whom with their wives were in attendance, the rest of the number being composed of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and their families.

The day was spent in happy manner. The dinner took the form of a family picnic and the good things were packed on the table until it fairly groaned under the weight. The chicken and baked beans, which the host and hostess had prepared, was a dish to be remembered. An abundance of candy and watermelon was furnished by two who stood treat for the crowd.
Games were played by the young people and songs, both sacred and sentimental, were sung. Three cheers and a vote of thanks were given Mr. and Mrs. Eccleston with a unanimous vote to meet at the same place next year the last Tuesday in August, providing God is willing.

At most reunions a literary programme is prepared for the occasion, but this family meets for the express purpose of having a day to visit with each other and there is no time for anything of that kind, judging by the busy hour of voices heard on all sides, and the swiftly passing hours.

Unclaimed Letters.

The list of unclaimed letters at the Norwich Postoffice for the week ending Sept. 4, 1909, follows: Mrs.
Beckwith, Mrs. Ida Benjamin, M. E. T.
Brown, Mrs. L. E. Bromley, Miss Elsie Chapman, John Desboskey, Nora Discoll, Rose Gallivan, Samuel Goldstein, L. T. Jones, L. E. Mins Marx, H. Mont-fort, Sarah Manning, John P. Murphy, Wayne M. Musgrave, John Page, Captain C. Palmer, Mrs. Dora Pierce, Earl M. Richmond, Mrs. L. E. Roath, Mrs. F. Rickles, Mrs. Gertrude Stewart.

NEW LONDON TURNPIKE TO BE MACADAMIZED.

Seven and a Half Miles in Waterford and Montville Will Be Improved.

Soon there will be a direct macadam road all the way of the fourteen miles, more or less, from New London to Norwich. Bids will be opened Friday, Sept. 10, for the construction of the macadam road, over the portion of the road not now macadamized.

The bids will be opened at the office of State Highway Commissioner Macdonald at the capital, Hartford, as the road is to be built by the state. Contractors have been notified and some from this city and other sections of eastern Connecticut may bid.

The amount of road to be built is about seven and one-half miles. It will start at a point near the Waterford schoolhouse on the Norwich-New London turnpike and will run to Trading Cove, where the macadam to Norwich begins.

The contract will be much sought, as it is a big one too big, in fact, except for quite extensive contractors.
It will mean a contract price of about $60,000 and the employment of a large force of men.

The decision of the state to build this macadam, thus establishing a good highway from New London to Norwich, is hailed with delight in this section of the state. It will be a great boon to New London and Norwich and in fact to all eastern Connecticut.

The work will be started this fall and hurried along. The preparations for building this road and the building of other state wide roads, several of them, in charge of Governor Stuart and Commissioner Macdonald seem to indicate that Commissioner Macdonald is doing all he can for good roads for eastern Connecticut.

The road will be built of native crushed stone with a one inch top dressing of trap rock and is to be built fourteen feet wide throughout.
The work will be let at once and contractors will be compelled to proceed to work on the roads at once and complete them before severe cold weather sets in.

Brought to State Hospital.

John E. Godette of New Haven, a negro, who went suddenly violently insane, was committed to the Norwich state hospital Thursday afternoon. He arrived in New London, heavily manacled, in charge of Constable Stuart and accompanied by several friends.
Godette had to be almost carried from the New Haven train to the Norwich decal. While a small man, his keepers said he had made things very lively for them, and on the Norwich train he showed signs of possessing unusual strength.

HELPED TO MAKE SPENCER RIFLES.

Ebenezer Adams Was Especially Active During Civil War.

Ebenezer Adams, who died at his home in Roxbury, made a million locks for Spencer rifles during the Civil war and was superintendent of the Spencer factory when it was turning out firearms for the government as fast as it could make them. He was 74 years old. Mr. Adams went with three loads of rifles to the state house when draft lotting was in progress in Boston and instructed the cadets there assembled how to use them. At that time the Spencer rifle works occupied what is now the Chickering piano factory in Tremont street, Boston.

Mr. Adams was a member of the common council in 1873 and 1874 and of the house of representatives in 1875 and 1876. He was a director of the East Boston ferries from 1874 to 1879.
He was born Dec. 1, 1830, and is survived by a widow and two children.
He was a member of Washington lodge and other Masonic bodies.

At Buckingham Memorial.

Out of town visitors registered this week at the Buckingham Memorial include Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ogil, Miss Hattie M. Ogil, Greenport, N. Y.;

A HURRY-UP MEDICINE.
Every householder recognizes the need of effective remedies to be used in emergencies—when something must be done right away, such a remedy is Perry Davis' Pain-Expeller, for sprains and bruises. For strained muscles and for the aches and pains resulting from blows and falls. Burns and cuts are instantly relieved by it and helped in healing. The millions of cures made by this great medicine are a testimony to its power. There is but one Pain-Expeller, Perry Davis'.
